REEVES'

PRICE LIST OF

PÆONIES AND PERENNIALS

U.S. LIBRARY, Department of Agr. Washington, D. C.

EDWIN A. REEVES,

NURSERYMAN AND
LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT

FAIRMOUNT P. O., CLEVELAND, O.

J. B. SAVAGE PRINT, CLEVELAND

PREFACE.

I take pleasure in presenting herewith a list of some of the Pæonies and Perennials grown at our Lake View Nursery. While we make a specialty of choice Pæonies and Perennials, we have in addition to these a general line of Shrubs, Roses, Vines, Bulbs, Fruit, Ornamental, and Shade Trees. The price of the latter are governed by the size and quality. It is quite difficult to give a list of the size, quality, and price of same, but will ask you to visit the nursery and select the size and kind of trees you wish. Our collection of Pæonies contains one hundred thousand roots and two hundred varieties and is the third in size and value in the United States.

At the exhibition of the American Pæony Society held in Chicago, June, 1905, our display was the center of attraction among the ten thousand blooms that filled the large Auditorium Banquet Hall and easily won the first prize. Our stock is true to name and no root is sent out till it has bloomed and its name been verified by comparison with original descriptions.

The nomenclature of the Pæony is not well understood by many and one is apt to get the wrong plant unless he deals with those who are careful to keep the varieties true to original descriptions. If you are interested in this noble and popular plant we shall be glad to hear from you and have no doubt we can furnish you plants that will please you and your friends. Thanking you for past favors and soliciting your future confidence, I am Gratefully yours,

E. A. Reeves,
Fairmount P. O., Cleveland, O.

LOCATION.

The Lake View Nursery is on Noble Road at Stop 6, Gates Mills carline. A brick paved street connects us with the city. The improvement now being made on Mayfield Road will, when completed in the fall of 1906, furnish us with a most beautiful drive to the city. The Euclid Heights Boulevard will run direct to our nursery.

FACILITIES.

Considering that my nursery is located on high ground, exposed to the bleakest winds that sweep Lake Erie, it may be assumed that our plants, which are all field grown are well fitted to thrive in the most trying and exposed situations. A large packing house with ample cold storage cellars enables me to handle and pack your goods in the very best condition.

LANDSCAPE WORK.

I am prepared to take your grounds in the rough, grade, drain, prepare, lay out, and plant the same in a way that will please you. My experience enables me to give valuable advice to those who contemplate purchasing suburban home property. Often a serious mistake is made by those unfamiliar with those conditions which render a piece of ground desirable or otherwise for a suburban home site.

VISITORS.

Visitors are always welcome at any time and we are glad to have you look over and select your plants when they are in bloom, and when you can better judge what things please you best. The display of choice pæonies the first part of June is worth a trip of miles to those interested.

INSTRUCTIONS.

Six plants supplied at dozen rates.

Five percent off for cash with order.

Give name of Express Co. in your town.

Remit by P. O. Order, Ex. Money Order, Draft, Check, or Registered Letter.

Write name and address plainly.

If you wish to trust the selection of varieties to me state number of each color you wish.

General Collection of Paeonies.

Preparation of soil for pæonies. The pæona can use a rich soil but it is not well to put manure on the roots which makes them scabby and worms from the manure may eat them. Use good rich clay loam to a depth of eighteen to twenty-four inches in full sun or partial shade. Set the plants so the buds will be two to three inches below surface. The plants can be set any time after the middle of August.

Perennials.

This list of hardy plants includes most of those desirable flowering plants that remain out during winter and come up each spring. They are fine in beds around the outside of back yards next the fence, or as a border to a shrubbery.

Each year sees them more in favor among those who enjoy a flower garden. The ease with which they may be grown, the endless variety of color, form and fragrance found among them, all contribute to their worth in the garden. Our plants are all field grown, and much superior to the tender plants reared in the greenhouse
